SECLUDED LUXURY ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE HEART OF THE QUARTER

NEW ORLEANS is an extremely popular destination for those near and far, and there is a certain draw to the French Quarter in particular. Situated ideally in the heart of the Quarter are the newly renovated Audubon Cottages.

The historic Creole cottages date back to the 1800s, and the stunning, heated saltwater pool was originally built in the 1920s. The seven buildings house a total of 12 bedrooms, each with a distinct flair. The rustic décor is complete with beautiful antiques, yet all modern conveniences, such as large flat screen TVs, Keurig coffee maker, iPod docking stations and complimentary Internet, are just fingertips away.

One of the services that set the Audubon Cottages apart from other local boutique hotels is the French Quarter Butler. Happy to have a chilled bottle of wine waiting in your room, no request is too large. The French Quarter Butler will bring a delightful breakfast to your room each morning and can make your dinner reservations while you relax in your cottage's private courtyard.

Another benefit of staying at the luxurious Audubon Cottages is the ability to valet your car and walk to all of your destinations in the French Quarter – if you ever decide to leave! All the action the area is known for is just steps away from this peaceful oasis.

Elizabeth Taylor made it known that this was one of her favorite places to stay when she was in town, and other celebrities, such as Alicia Keys and Dan Akroyd, enjoy the exclusivity and personalized service of the cottages as well.

Located at 509 Rue Dauphine, the Audubon Cottages is the perfect site for corporate retreats, girlfriend getaways, family reunions, honeymoons, individual travel and more. Visit www.auduboncottages.com or call 504-586-1516 to find out about deals like Summer in the City.
